Vocational Scenario or Context	You have been working with a local coaching company who offer sports coaching in Primary and Secondary schools. The owner of the company is aware that you are studying a sport qualification and has asked you to deliver a presentation to some of the coaches. Your presentation will focus on the technical and tactical strategies used in different sports and will help the coaches to implement relevant strategies in their coaching sessions. As the company delivers different sports activities in the local schools, it is important that your presentation covers contrasting sports.

Task 1	A presentation focusing on the technical skills and tactical strategies within three sports. You will need to use specific sporting examples to analyse the similarities and differences in application of technical skills and tactical components. You should use an observation checklist to evaluate the technical and tactical skills of an elite sports performer. You should compare three sports and the technical and tactical demands for each. The comparison could be in the form of a table that includes similarities and differences of your three chosen sports. The table should then be explained to expand the information provided. You will need to explain each of the strengths and areas for improvement and state how improving in these areas could enhance performance. You will need to justify how the development in the specific areas for improvement could improve the overall performance and success of the elite athlete or sports performer.
